FORUM TO GIVE EXPERT ADVICE ON TAX, FINANCE AND AFFORDABLE HOUSING

Providing affordable homes for South West residents has never been more important and getting the financial and taxation aspects of land development right is a vitally important part of controlling costs for home buyers.

The UDIA South West Property Finance Forum on Friday, March 25 will bring together two of Australia's leading experts on finance and taxation to share their knowledge with property developers, real estate agents and others interested in property development.

Colin Robertshaw, National Head of Property Finance with the Commonwealth Bank, will share his 20 years' experience in commercial property finance, while Rami Brass, Director of Tax Services with RSM Bird Cameron, will give expert advice on taxation gained from his 25 years in the industry.

"The UDIA is always striving to keep land and housing affordable to West Australians and finance and tax are important contributors to the cost of urban development," said Debra Goostrey, CEO of UDIA WA.

"This forum will provide a wealth of practical advice and information to professionals in the land development industry on a national, state and local South West scale, information that will ultimately result in more affordable homes for local buyers," she said.

The forum takes place on Friday March 25 from 8.45am – 1.45pm at the Wyndham Resort and Spa, Dunsborough.
