

DISSECTING DEVELOPMENT CONTRIBUTIONS

The Future of Funding, Development Contribution Schemes & Value Capture

WED 29 MAY | 7.30 - 9.30AM | CROWN PERTH

With hundreds of millions of dollars in development contributions sitting idle in WA, issues have been highlighted around governance, transparency and accountability of the schemes.

The Western Australian Planning Commission (WAPC) has responded to concerns from the development industry around the need for greater consistency and transparency when charging developers. The current review of State Planning Policy 3.6 - Development Contributions for Infrastructure is welcomed, and will reignite the debate about how the development industry contributes to key community infrastructure.

Join David Caddy, Chairman of the WAPC and a panel of industry experts as we examine Development Contributions in WA.
