UDIA WA encourages female professionals across all disciplines of the development industry from both the public and private sectors to enter, including developers, contractors, consultants and those involved in property services.

The award recognises outstanding women working at mid to senior levels within the WA development industry and acknowledges their achievements.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT & CEO

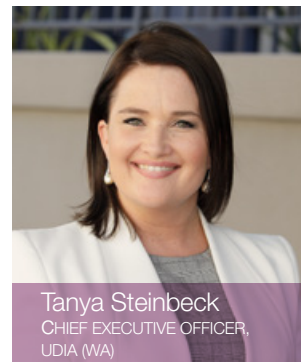

The 2019 UDIA & Frasers Property Women in Leadership (WIL) Award is part of UDIA's broader dedication to recognising the critical role of women in the urban development industry and improving female representation in our sector.

The WIL Award is presented to a high calibre professional who demonstrates outstanding leadership and has made a significant personal and business contribution to the industry.

The award offers the winner unparalleled networking and professional development opportunities.

Previous winners of this award have acted as strong mentors to other women and young professionals working in the industry and have used their position as a role model to inspire greater female participation, from students studying in relevant fields to women in senior management positions.

We encourage all outstanding women working in the WA property development industry to nominate for the 2019 Women in Leadership Award and maximise their profile in the industry and gain the recognition they deserve.
